

THE PORN KING IN WINTER: BOB GUCCIONE STRIPPED (OF HIS ASSETS)
HOROWITZ: RAY KELLY AND THE ROOFTOP SHOOTING CASE

FEBRUARY 9, 2004

NEW YORK

Luxury condo developers are getting—big—on downtown's Far West Side. Could this windy, cab-free zone be the city's next fabulous Zip Code?

BY DEBORAH SCHOENEMAN

THE NEW WEST COAST

DAISY MAY'S USA BBQ CHILI CARTS

From cooking steaks in a strip club to barbecuing beef on Eleventh Avenue, Adam Perry Lang goes where few Daniel-Boulud-trained chefs have gone before. His latest destination is the mean streets of mid-town where he's hawking Texas chili from a pushcart. Made from hand-cut chuck and a deeply flavorful, deftly blended mix of chilies including New Mexican Hatch, it's the best thing to happen to street food since the falafel. A twelve-ounce cup goes for $6 and comes with a big flour tortilla, condiments and a killer hot sauce; beans are optional unless you're from Texas.

50th St. at Sixth Ave; 39th St. at Broadway. (I)

ISSN: 0974 (CANADA $3.99)

0 74820 08183 9

WWW.NYMag.COM